

Submissions are currently being accepted to the National Conference on Undergraduate Research (NCUR)

April 7-9, 2025 | Pittsburgh, PA

What is NCUR?

- NCUR creates a unique environment for the celebration and promotion of undergraduate student achievement.
- NCUR offers students the opportunity to gain national recognition, foster professional development, contribute to their field's knowledge, and enhance their resume.
- NCUR provides faculty and mentors, through mentor-led sessions, a place to share their invaluable insights, mentorship experiences, and research initiatives, illuminating the path for ambitious student researchers, inspiring ideas for other mentors who may attend, and celebrating the spirit of undergraduate research.
- NCUR engages students and faculty/mentors beyond an average conference and provides them with networking opportunities with the undergraduate research community throughout the conference.

Submit today at CUR.org/NCUR. Submissions close on December 6.
