

FICTION ANTHOLOGIES/COLLECTIONS

Definition: This category includes both multi-author anthologies and single-author collections containing fictional works that share a theme, purpose, style, approach, and/or source (e.g., related works from a single publisher, authors from a certain geographic locale, works about a specific vocation or pastime). All entries must be fictional works chosen by the compiler(s)—a single editor or publisher, a group of editors, a group of authors, etc. Anthologies/Collections must have a minimum of three individual pieces and a total of at least 40,000 words to qualify for judging.

Judging Guideline: These anthologies/collections must include significant themes, characters, situations, or other content about women or sapphically aligned nonbinary people who are romantically and/or sexually attracted to women or sapphically aligned nonbinary people. Individual pieces in the anthology/collection should be self-contained yet contribute to the book’s overall quality. For GCLS purposes, anthologies or collections devoted to poetry should not be entered in this category but rather in Poetry.

Evaluation Items:

1. Thinking back on the GOLDIE entry you are about to judge, what were your overall impressions, positive and/or negative?

Using a 10-point scale where “1” means you “Totally Disagree” and “10” means you “Totally Agree,” please indicate how much you disagree or agree that each of the following statements describes this GOLDIE entry.

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10

6. The individual pieces in this anthology/collection are self-contained and able to stand alone. Each piece can be comprehended in one reading.

Totally Disagree									Totally Agree
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10

7. The opening of the individual pieces in this anthology/collection draws readers into the story and makes them want to read further.

Totally Disagree									Totally Agree
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10

8. The individual pieces in this anthology/collection do not depend too heavily on implausible coincidence or far-fetched circumstances that are inappropriate for this type of work.

Totally Disagree									Totally Agree
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10

9. The individual pieces in this anthology/collection have sufficient conflict—that is, obstacles standing in the way of characters achieving their goals—to keep readers interested.

Totally Disagree									Totally Agree
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10

10. The individual pieces in this anthology/collection are free of plot holes and logical inconsistencies—dropped storylines, puzzling disappearance of characters, underdeveloped and/or contrived story elements, actions leading to illogical consequences, etc.

Totally Disagree									Totally Agree
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10

11. The individual pieces in this anthology/collection are appropriately paced. The writing skillfully moves the story along without being too spare, rushed, saggy, bloated, or cluttered with unnecessary detail.

Totally Disagree									Totally Agree
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10

12. By the end of each piece in this anthology/collection, all important plots, subplots, and character conflicts are reasonably resolved, other than those clearly intended to remain unresolved.

Totally Disagree									Totally Agree
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10

13. The individual pieces in this anthology/collection feature compelling, three-dimensional main characters with credible strengths and flaws.

Totally Disagree									Totally Agree
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10

14. The characters in the individual pieces in this anthology/collection are portrayed in a believable way—dialogue is reflective of age and social class, actions are consistent with personalities, career levels are age-appropriate, backstories help deepen reader understanding, etc.

15. The individual pieces in this anthology/collection have engaging, natural-sounding dialogue that brings the characters to life.

Totally Disagree									Totally Agree
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10

16. The individual pieces in this anthology/collection are written in an engaging style. The writing flows smoothly, with a sufficient variety of sentence structures and lengths; the language is fresh, vivid, and original; word choices are effective and fit the style, tone, and mood of the book; etc.

Totally Disagree									Totally Agree
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10

17. This anthology/collection is virtually free of such distractions as factual errors, incorrect spelling, poor punctuation and grammar, unnecessary repetition, paragraph structures that don't make sense, and confusing or missing dialogue tags that make it difficult to know who is speaking.

Totally Disagree									Totally Agree
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10

18. Point of view in the individual pieces in this anthology/collection is clear. The writing does not jump unnecessarily from the "head" of one character to another within a given scene or describe things a given character can't possibly know, see, hear, or feel. Point-of-view transitions within a scene, if any, are clearly signaled to the reader.

Totally Disagree									Totally Agree
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10

19. The individual pieces in this anthology/collection have an effective balance between “showing” what happens (via actions, dialogue, and/or vivid details from a given character’s point of view) and “telling” what happens (via explanations and summary).

Totally Disagree									Totally Agree
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10

20. The individual pieces in this anthology/collection have a distinct sense of time and place that skillfully captures the mood, tone, and setting of the story.

Totally Disagree									Totally Agree
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10

21. The individual pieces in this anthology/collection have elements (stories, characters, themes, settings, evocative writing, a distinctive voice, enjoyable confusion, etc.) that will linger in the reader’s mind long after the book is finished.

Totally Disagree									Totally Agree
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10

22. This anthology/collection includes significant themes, characters, situations, and/or other content about women who are attracted to women or sapphic individuals.
