Yes I grew up in a low-income household

Explanation of Need

This award would help me continue my one-year ACGME accredited Orthopaedic Surgery Sports Medicine Fellowship, while supporting my spouse in taking care of our 5-year-old and 1 year old children. Given the financial limitations of being in residency with 2 kids under the age of 5, and the limited time I have to spend at home with my family I would like to request support for daycare. Daycare expenses in Chicago can be up to 2,000/mo, having these costs covered will allow me to fully focus on my fellowship without the need to split my time between part time jobs.

UNSUCCESSFUL APPLICATION

DEAR Taesoo Kwon,

Thank you for your interest in the FASEB CARES Award Program. CARES is designed to provide primary caregivers with supplementary financial support outside of their routine long term care giving responsibilities.

After careful consideration, the review committee has determined that your application is not eligible for an award. We thank you again for your interest in FASEB CARES Award.

Sincerely,

FASEB

FASEB is committed to enhancing and sustaining diversity, equity, accessibility, and inclusion in the biological and biomedical sciences with a goal of creating and supporting an environment that is welcoming and safe for all. Thus, inclusion of diverse participants in FASEB's DEAI programs is critical to the scientific community. The demographic information collected through this form will help us increase the representation of historically excluded communities in our programs and make them more diverse and inclusive. Any data collected is confidential and will only be used in aggregate for internal review and program assessment.
