

Alfred W. Alzerini

Class of 1926

Alfred "Redney" Alzerini was considered possibly the greatest football player to ever graduate from Milford High School. He was a member of the 1924 football team that lost one game and was the only team to beat Framingham that season. He also was an outstanding baseball player known for his hitting ability.

"Redney" went on to star at end for Holy Cross, which at that time played a top-ranked national schedule. His biography in the 1930 Holy Cross yearbook read "This is the saga of a giant killer, for Al, though diminutive in stature, was great in deeds. He specialized in removing big tackles- the bigger the better- from the scene of action. One of the greatest ends ever turned out of Holy Cross..... one of the most brilliant careers in our gridiron history..."

The legendary Milford High School and Holy Cross coach "Hop" Riopel, talking about the great traditions and heritage of Milford athletes stated that "...of course, the greatest of them all was Red Alzerini." After his senior year, he was selected to the All-East Football Team and the All-Italian of America Football Team.

Sadly, Red died of tuberculosis within a year of graduation from Holy Cross. As Judge Francis J. Larkin, who served as President of the Holy Cross Club stated, "In short, the reach of his exploits, the range of his extraordinary athleticism, the flow of his courage, all combined in one person, truly touched the incredible. Clearly, Alfred "Redney" Alzerini is someone to think back upon, to measure one's self by, to cherish in death as in life."

Angelo P. Ferrario

Class of 1937

Angelo P. Ferrario was a three sport athlete at Milford High School. Besides starring on the football and baseball teams for three years, he also played one year of basketball.

On the baseball diamond, "Horsemeat" was a double threat. An outstanding pitcher, he also had a career batting average of over .300.

As a football player, Angelo was a talented and hard-nosed competitor. A skilled quarterback and running back, he scored numerous touchdowns on the ground as well as through the air.

Upon graduation from Milford High School, Angelo attended Oglethorpe University in Atlanta, Georgia, continuing to excel in football and baseball. His baseball career carried over to the semi-pro level, where he enjoyed many more productive seasons.
