

Ernest Chaplin Class of 1979

Ernie Chaplin possessed exceptional talent as a goalie in soccer and a catcher in baseball during his career at Milford High School. Playing two highly visible and stressful positions on the field, he always strove to win and/or lose with dignity while representing MHS respectfully.

In soccer, Chaplin played at 5'10" and 155 lbs. His slight frame, however, was deceiving. He was an aggressive, instinctive keeper who earned the starting position as a sophomore and finished his high school career there as a senior captain. Ernie had a career goals-against average of .90, turned in six shutouts as a sophomore, and helped Coach Charlie Stand's teams to qualify for the district tournament all three years. His best game came in the Central Sectional Finals in 1976, when, as a sophomore, he turned away 16 shots on goal against heavily favored St. John's before Milford bowed out, 1-0, in overtime. This helped put the fledgling MHS soccer program on the map. Chaplin earned all-star honors in the Midland League, as well as the Milford Daily News and Worcester Telegram.

On the baseball diamond, Ernie excelled as a defensive catcher and a vocal leader as both a junior and senior. A .280 career hitter, he helped the team to a 16-7 record during his senior year, as Milford qualified for the district tournament for what would be the first of a 37 (and counting) year streak.

After graduating from MHS, Chaplin played four years of soccer at Fitchburg State. During his sophomore season, he led the team to a 9-0-9 record, including four shutouts. That was the school's first tourney appearance in 25 years, and they made it to the ECAC Div. 3 finals. His best game as a collegian came in a 1-1 tie vs. Div. 1 Boston University. Chaplin was named a MASCAC All-Star and was selected to the All-New England Team.

Anthony Consigli Class of 1985

Anthony Consigli brought a hard-nosed work ethic to his athletic endeavors at Milford High School. As he liked to say, he "played football so he wouldn't have to dig graves, and wrestled to avoid shoveling/plowing snow" for the family construction business. Although he was never the best athlete on his teams, he was, without a doubt, the hardest worker.

Tony was a four-year varsity letter winner on the football team, playing as a tackle on defense and as center offensively. A member of the 1983 undefeated Super Bowl Champions as a junior, he went on to earn Metro-West Daily News Defensive Player-of-the Year honors, selection to the Worcester Telegram & Gazette All Star Team and was named to the Shriners All Star Game as a senior. He went on to play at Harvard, where his leadership qualities were quickly apparent to his peers, who elected him captain of the Freshmen Football squad. He followed that up by earning three varsity letters. He started at center as a junior on the 1987 Ivy League Championship Team, and earned second team All-Ivy League honors as a senior.

Consigli was also a standout on the wrestling mat. He started at 187 lbs. as a sophomore on the 1983 State Championship Team, and captained the team during both his junior and senior seasons. He was undefeated in dual meets as a senior Heavyweight, and was a Sectional Champion. As a junior at Harvard, Tony decided to take up wrestling again as a means of staying in shape for football, and ended up starting at Heavyweight for Harvard and former US Olympic Coach Jim Peckham. A highlight of his career was being chosen to represent Boston area colleges as a member of a cultural exchange team that spent two weeks competing in Japan.

Tony is the President of Consigli Construction and is the father of three children "who manage my humility."
